

You will get an invite email from me (paul@jscfinancial.co.uk), or one of the team here, with the subject:

‘Welcome to MyAdviceHub for Johnson Savage Consultancy Ltd’

The system is set up using your email address we have on file, along with the mobile number we also hold on file for you.

- The email content should look like this:

Paul Johnson has invited you to join MyAdviceHub

MyAdviceHub helps you manage your experience with Johnson Savage Consultancy Ltd.

CREATE YOUR ACCOUNT

Click/tap on the Create your account box in the email, it will then open a new internet browser screen that looks like the next page

Welcome to MyAdviceHub

 Provided by The Openwork Partnership

Hi Paul,

To create your account, please read and agree to the Terms and Conditions and Privacy Notice

I have read, understood, and agree to, the Terms and Conditions and Privacy Notice

CONTINUE

Instead of Paul, it will say your name here.

You can open and read the T&C's and Privacy Notice, then click or tap the tick box to confirm you have done so, then click/tap continue.

this page will appear with your email address confirmed at the top:

The screenshot shows a login form titled "MyAdviceHub login credentials". It includes a field for "Your email address" which is redacted with a black box. A red arrow points from a text box on the right to this redacted area. Below the email field is a password requirement message: "Your password must include at least one uppercase and one lowercase letter and be a minimum of 10 characters." The "10" is underlined in red. There are two password input fields: "Enter password" and "Confirm password", both with lock icons and toggle visibility icons. A red arrow points from the "NEXT" button to the text below. A dark blue "NEXT" button is located at the bottom right of the form.

Where you have any outstanding documents to review that we have uploaded, such as your investment reports and any other documents, it will state you have outstanding tasks to complete. IF it says 'all good' like above, you have no documents to open and review.

You can use the menu (top right) to do this, and if you wish to, you can download any documents and save them locally too.

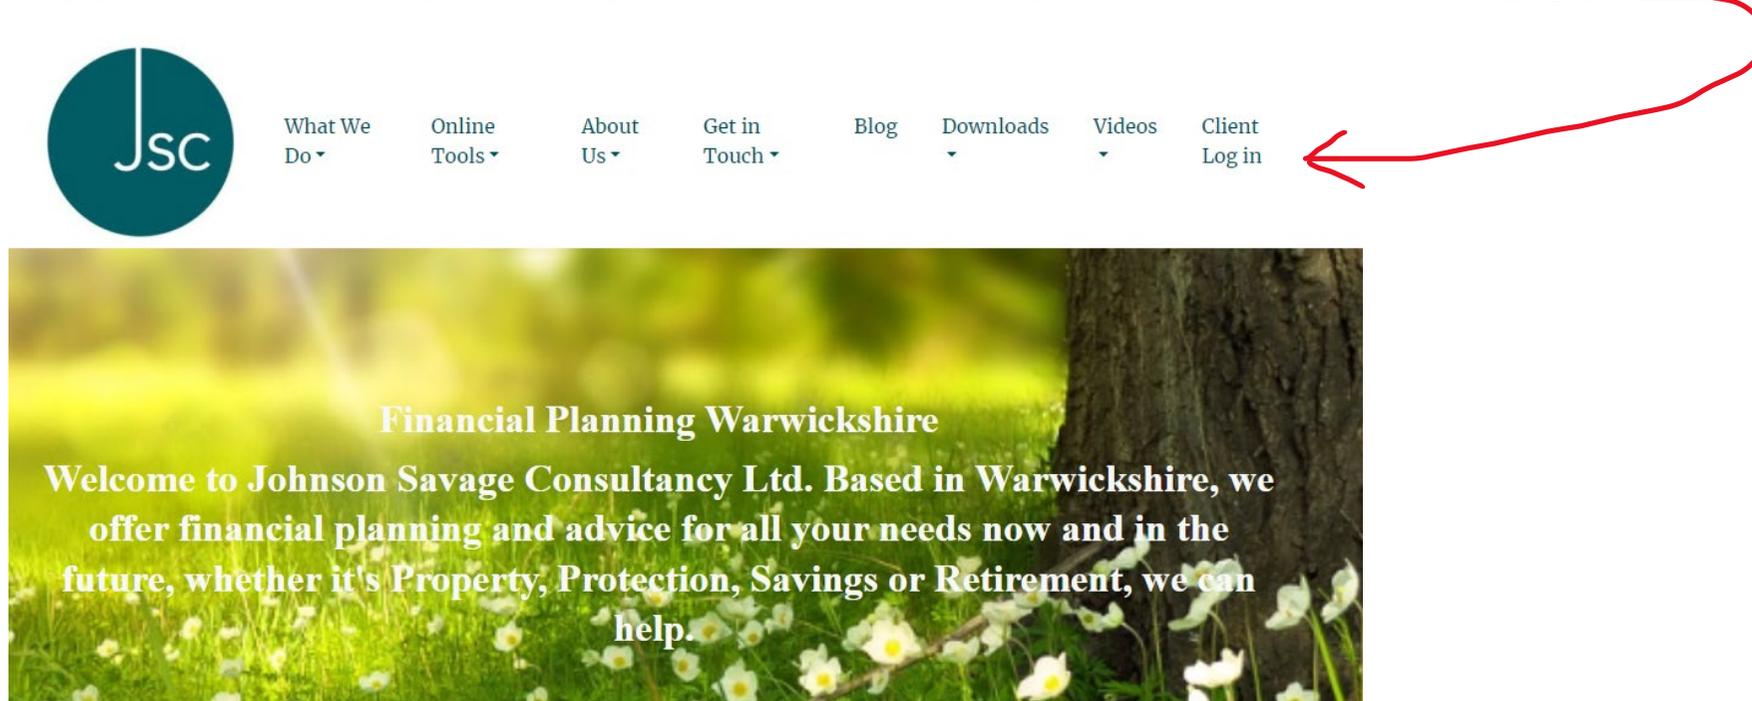

Things to try if you are not able to get in:

- Go into internet settings and clear/delete all cookies & history, close internet browser and then re-open internet.
- Only use the link in the invite email to create your new password for the first time (this is a new system, not the old one we had access to before)

Once you have logged in for the first time, you will get an automatic email from me, with the link to use for logging in in the future.

The page to use for future when you wish to log in, is also on our website www.jscfinancial.co.uk under the client login page,
