Omnis Agility II May 2025

Portfolio Objective

The Service is designed for a cautious investor, who should have:

- Limited experience of investment products, and is probably more familiar with bank and building society accounts.
- An understanding that in general terms investment products should be held for a minimum period of five years.
- A preference for outcomes that have a degree of certainty, although they will understand that their investments could rise or fall.

The Service aims to improve total returns and actively manage short-term risks through increasing or decreasing holdings in asset classes and individual funds. These allocations are determined by the Omnis Investments Limited investment team, which benefits from full transparency of the funds' underlying investments, and is controlled through a strict governance framework.

Risk Range

The Adviser will risk-rate investors based on their answers to a number of questions and appropriate validation.

Investment highlights

Portfolio rebalance with added ETF exposure - We rebalanced all Agility portfolios in late April and introduced two new ETFs to reflect our latest tactical asset allocation views. These changes help ensure the portfolios remain diversified, responsive to market shifts and positioned to capture opportunities as they emerge across global markets.

Targeting US smaller companies - We increased exposure to US smaller companies by adding the SPDR Russell 2000 US Small Cap UCITS ETF. Valuations remain attractive relative to large caps, and smaller firms may benefit more from any improvement in the US economy. With investor focus still skewed toward mega-cap stocks, we see room for rotation into smaller names.

Increasing allocation to China - We also added the iShares MSCI China A UCITS ETF to capture opportunities in Chinese equities. Policymakers are stepping up support for growth, and many domestically focused companies are less exposed to US trade tensions. We believe this part of the market offers selective value and potential upside as stimulus measures begin to take hold.
