

But the tough times can be eased with a kind word, a helping hand, or expert advice to put you back in control. The Openwork Partnership and your adviser work together to support you when you need it most so you can make the best financial decisions for yourself and the people you care about.

No matter what life has in store for you, we want to help you face the future with confidence and optimism.

We're here for you, no matter what

We're here for you, whether you're grieving a loved one, going through a divorce, battling a serious health condition, or experiencing any other challenges that make it hard to manage your finances effectively.

But there are other things that can adversely affect your relationship with your finances. Caring responsibilities, poor mental health and unpredictable income are just a few examples of things that can make financial decisions seem daunting.

Maybe you feel like you don't know enough about financial products. Maybe you struggle to wrap your head around complex financial topics. You might be stressed at work or worried about a loved one who's unwell. Or maybe you're just having one of those days.

Whatever you're facing, it's important to ask for help. We're here to provide you with expert financial advice. Letting us know about any difficulties you're facing ensures we can create the best possible outcomes for you.

Everyone will need additional support at some point, and everyone's circumstances are unique. We work with you to understand your situation and give you practical advice that suits your needs.

It starts with a conversation

Our job is to listen to you and understand your situation. A full picture helps us provide you with a truly personal service, tailoring our advice to your circumstances and supporting you when you need it most.

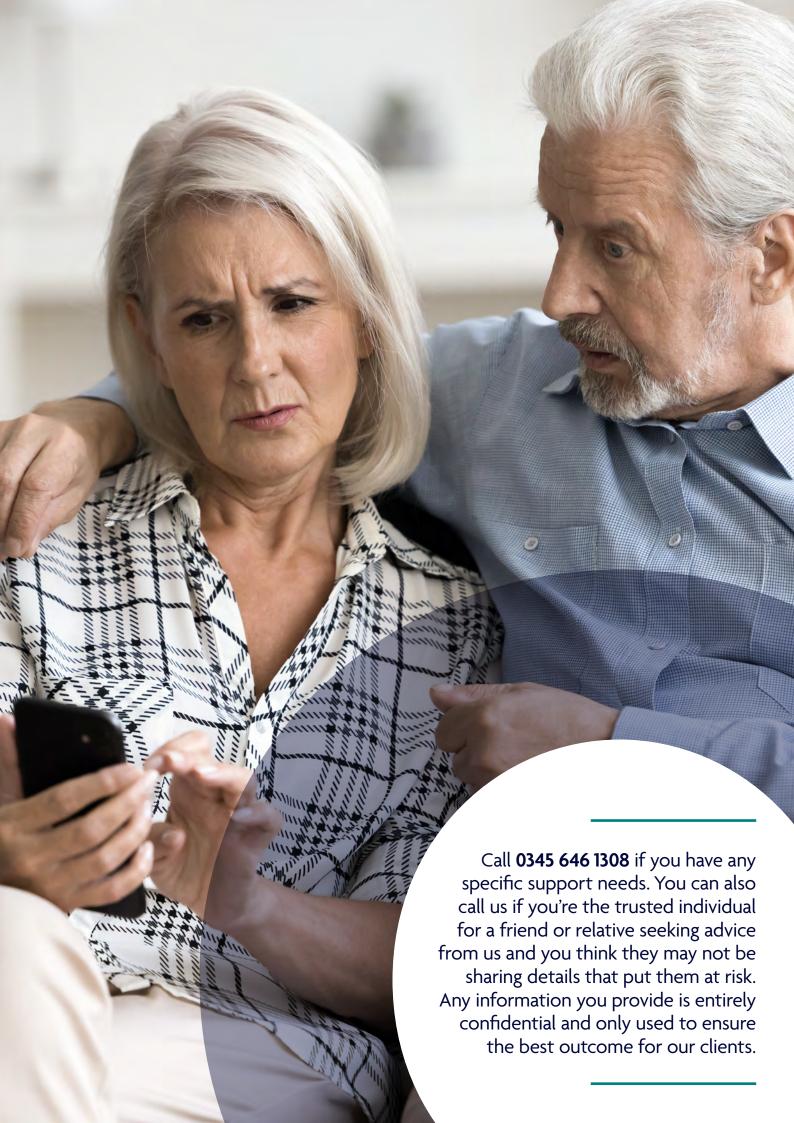

You can talk to us in confidence about any concerns you have, no matter how small or unimportant they may seem. We will continue to take them into account when providing you with advice, adjusting our approach to suit your circumstances.

It's helpful for us to know if the additional support we're providing is helpful or if you want to do things differently. It's important to keep the conversation going so that we can always act in your best interests.

Your service is always personal, and there are many ways that we can adjust our approach to cater to your unique needs:

- Take your time. You can spread discussions over several short meetings instead of one long one, giving you the chance to digest information at your pace.
- Conversations where and when you're comfortable. We can be flexible about the time, location and nature of your meetings depending on your preferences.
- There's no rush. Meetings will always happen at a pace you're comfortable with so that you have enough time to decide what's right for you and your loved ones.
- Friends and family welcome. You can bring friends and relatives to any of your meetings, whether that's to support you or because they might be affected by your financial decisions.

You can contact The Openwork Partnership if you're the trusted individual for someone who may not be sharing information about a challenge that's putting them at risk.

Support beyond The Openwork Partnership

You can rely on us for trusted, personalised financial advice, but there might be times when you want other forms of support.

We've provided a list of organisations that offer a range of services to help support you through life's challenges.

If you're at risk or in an emergency, please contact the police or your local authority safeguarding team.

For general advice you can contact Citizens Advice (www.citizensadvice.org.uk) or MoneyHelper (www.moneyhelper.org.uk/en).
